

Important Announcement
Regarding
“Faculty Experience & Faculty Promotion”
(7th Dec, 2020)

Any faculty requiring an experience certificate should contact their institution/college/university where such experience was gained to issue the requisite certificate. If an institution refuses to issue the experience certificate the faculty member can request the HEC or file a complaint with the Medical Tribunal.

For purposes of promotion as faculty the minimum criteria is currently the same as was previously contained in the PM&DC promotion regulations having been adopted by HEC in the interim. Universities/college can set higher standards for promotion of faculty in their institutions subject to any further applicable university/HEC rules for promotion of faculty. The Academic Board is in the process of developing the new Minimum Criteria and Standards for Medical Faculties as part of the curriculum and criteria for medical institutions which upon approval by the Council shall be notified and implemented in all institutions through HEC.
